DMLSS-Wholesale

What is DMLSS?

The Defense Medical Logistics Standard Support (DMLSS) is a hardware and software development partnership designed to modernize the military health care supply chain. A major Defense Acquisition Program, jointly sponsored by the Assistant Secretary of Defense (Health Affairs) and the Deputy Under Secretary for Defense (Logistics), DMLSS comprises the e-commerce backbone of the medical supply chain. This enables retail Department of Defense (DoD) customers to order medical materiel from wholesale commercial sources efficiently, economically, and electronically.

Purpose of DMLSS-Wholesale

The DMLSS-W mission is to modernize the entire military health care logistics supply chain. The DMLSS program partnership is manifested in synchronized initiatives at the retail and wholesale support levels that provide the electronic processes and backbone necessary to enable retail customers to efficiently obtain materiel from wholesale commercial sources. Information systems development and fielding at all levels must be coordinated to deliver efficient customer service at minimum costs.

DMLSS-Wholesale Vision

The DMLSS-W vision is to enable the Directorate of Medical Materiel, the DoD Medical Supply Chain Manager, to become the medical supplier of choice for all DoD and federal agencies every day and in every crisis. DMLSS-W is achieving this vision by planning, programming, budgeting and executing information technology projects and business process improvement initiatives. These enhance the Directorate's ability to provide its customers their product of choice at the right time, right place and right price, every time.
